

Catholic Schools Week 2015

A wise man was traveling in the mountains and found a precious stone in a stream. The next day he met another traveler who was hungry, and the wise man opened his backpack to share his food. The hungry traveler saw the precious stone and asked the man to give it to him. He did so without hesitation. The traveler left, rejoicing in his good fortune. He knew the stone was worth enough to give him security for a lifetime. But a few days later he came back to return the stone to the wise man. "I've been thinking," He said, "I know how valuable the stone is, but I give it back in the hope that you can give me something even more precious. Give me what you have within you that enabled you to give me the stone."

Without a doubt we are able to give our children those precious stones of information, knowledge, wealth and success; but it is our faith that enables us to give them the wisdom to use these gifts with maturity. Formed within an environment where a love for learning is encouraged, where a personal love and care is experienced, where service to others bring about a more loving world, stems from our belief that God is the inner source - the transforming grace - deep within. It is that faith in God that will allow our children to choose what is good, what is true, and what is beautiful in creating the future. LGaetano
